Children's Day Celebrated

Mysuru, Nov. 14 (MTY&SR)- If search engine giant Google celebrated Children's Day today with a doodle "Galaxy, Space Exploration" created by Pingla Rahul More, a school student from Mumbai who won the 2018 'Doodle 4 Google' competition, children of Mysuru celebrated the day by visiting various tourist spots where they were welcomed with open arms, minus any tickets.

There was a hub of activity in city as children celebrated Children's Day, remembering Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of the country on his 129th birth anniversary. The Mysuru Zoo and the Dasara Exhibition Grounds saw a sea of children as there was free entry.

Though entry was free for Mysore Palace and Railway Museum, only a few children visited these places along with their parents and teachers apart from regular visitors. At the Zoo, it was free entry for children below 12 years (till 1 pm) and at the Dasara Exhibition, children below 10 years were not charged entry fee.

Children in gay abandon at the Mysuru Zoo this morning on the occasion of Children's Day.

Children from rural areas along with their teachers and parents visited in large numbers when compared to their visits during previous years. However, as free entry was denied to children above 12 years, hundreds of high school students returned disappointed from these places. Instead, a majority of high school students celebrated the Day by climbing the steps of Chamundi Hill.

Following a large number of visitors, the city Police deployed additional security at these places to prevent pick-pocketing and traffic snarls. At the Zoo, authorities had deployed additional staff preventing children reaching sensitive spots and near cages and animal enclosures.

Disneyland plans: CM's Financial Advisor visits KRS

State Water Secretary to hold high-level meeting in Bengaluru today to implement project

A team of officers inspecting the Brindavan Gardens at KRS.

Mysuru, Nov. 14 (RK&BCT)- The visit of Balasubramaniam, Chief Minister's Financial Advisor to Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam on Nov. 12 has set in motion the State Government's grand plans of building a Disney-land like Amusement Park at the vast environs of KRS.

The high-ranking officer, who takes a call on the State's finance health, in consultation with Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy who holds the Finance portfolio, visited the Dam on Nov. 12 and held discussions with officials regarding building the Disneyland.

The visit was a precursor to a high-level meeting that will be held in Bengaluru today to chalk out Disneyland plans. Chief Minister Kumaraswamy has already released Rs. 5 crore for the initial works of Disneyland project in his budget with a promise of more funds once the works start.

It may be recalled here that the previous Congress government had decided to beautify the KRS and Brindavan Gardens at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,300 crore and the Cauvery Neeravari Nigama Limited (CNNL) that manages the Dam had asked Jaipur-based Sincere Architects and Engineers Private Limited to prepare a Detailed Project Report (DPR) on the beautification.

The DPR was prepared and sent to the State Government for approval. This project is, however, shelved as of now as the JD(S)-Congress government has come up with the Disneyland project.

According to CNNL officials and government sources, the Disneyland-type amusement park will be built in an area of over 200 acres.

Conformists Vs Non-conformists

While one owes one's knowledge to a guru, both inside the four walls of a classroom and beyond, customs emerge from life's experiences. Postulates that we owe to science owe it to experiments. The various customs that are followed by the land's people at large and have come to be regarded as its tradition of the conforming sections in the population have prompted the non-conformists to question their merits. The rationalists among the latter section, citing the principles and methods of science, have strong views against the customs, berating the blind beliefs associated with the customs. The catch marking the clash between the two sections seems to be that all the principles prescribed by ancient scholars are in verse form with Sanskrit script, the meaning of the words not known or clear to people at large. The factors of religion and castes have made matters more complicated. Ignorance has led to abrasive remarks by the non-conformists.

The verse drawn from ancient texts, ajnana timirandhasya, jnananjanashalaakaaya, portrays the role of a guru in opening one's eyes covered with the darkness of ignorance by applying the Collyrium (eye washing lotion) of knowledge and curing timiram, the disease affecting the eye. While the sun comes everyday to dispel darkness, a guru comes once in a lifetime to open our eyes, carrying us through life thereafter.

The crux of the clash between those unwilling to change their lifestyle necessitated by changes in living conditions of present times and those who don't favour the time-honoured custom seems to be the phenomenon of superstition. Narendra Dabholkar, a doctor from Pune, who paid with his life for openly questioning the veracity of the miracles performed by a section in society, in his work The Case for Reason has narrated the many ways in which superstition affects life of common people, one such act being black magic (bhanamati). All acts of the non-conformists seem to have been triggered by the acts of those who performed the miracles to exploit gullible sections for gain.

Religions, marked by dogmatism and telling their followers what to do and what not to do, seem to be at the root of intolerance and violence. A better chance of bartering peace between conformists and non-conformists is to pursue spirituality and harmony in society.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THANKS TO COMPUTERS, MORE AND MORE TOTAL STRANGERS KNOW MORE AND MORE ABOUT OUR PERSONAL DETAILS: The other week I observed my birthday. After a while, you stop celebrating your own birthdays; you observe them, generally with an air of wry resignation. Anyway, I received a lot of birthday greetings, which was very gratifying and also very intriguing. Gratifying because many of the greetings and good wishes were from family, friends and colleagues. And intriguing because of lot of the greetings were from total strangers, coming from my bank and from providers of other financial services, like insurance companies whose customer I am and who have my bio details, including date of birth, on their databases and whose computers automatically generate 'personalised' messages through inbuilt algorithms. Thanks to Aadhaar, PAN cards and KYC (Know Your Customer) norms which banks and other institutions are required to comply with, more and more people whom we've never met and will never meet in our lives, know more and more about us, not just the date of our birth, but about our biometrics, such as fingerprints, what our credit rating is, how much tax we pay, our medical history and so on and so forth, fifth and sixth. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India.

Man wakes up at his funeral!

Rajasthan: A 95-year-old man from Bhaktanwalan Ki Dhani in Rajasthan recently stunned his family when he woke up during his pre-funeral bath after a doctor had pronounced him dead.

The man known as Budh Ram, had fainted after complaining of chest pain. When his family found him, they called a private doctor, who, after inspecting Budh Ram declared him dead.

But when the family members started poring cold water over him to give the last bath, something unexpected happened – the "dead man" miraculously came back to life.

"He started breathing and sat on the bed soon after," said Balu Ram, the eldest son of Budh Ram. "When questioned by relatives, he said he had suffered chest pain and decided to sleep it off. It is nothing but a miracle," Balu added.

Unfortunately, his mother, refused to attend the event and so did all of his other relatives as they couldn't accept the fact that he was marrying a two-dimensional virtual idol. Akihiko Kondo married Hatsune Miku, an animated 16-year-old hologram with huge anime eyes and aquamarine pigtails, because he simply wasn't interested in real women.

Plea for city bus service

Sir,

This is a repeated plea for improving the city bus service in the Bank Employees Colony off the Ring Road. Presently, only one bus 69C (Market to Bapujinagar) is plying in this area and that too in every one or one-and-a-half-hour gap. During holidays the bus is hardly seen.

The other means of transport in this place is very poor.

One more route that comes upto the Ring Road could be diverted through this area where all the common people, school and college going children living in Bank Colony, Railway Colony and Bapuji Layout could benefit.

Once the buses start coming every half-hour, people will surely wait for the bus !

One need not say that lack of commuters is the reason for the scarce bus service in this area.

I request the KSRTC City Division authorities to look into this matter immediately.

Squatters target vacant sites; extort money

Hundreds of vacant sites in neighbourhoods offering an opportunity for land-grabbers

Mysuru, Nov.14 (SBD&BCT)- Real estate sector is growing and so are the scams and frauds associated with it. People now-a-days are more informed but ironically are still susceptible to scams. Real estate scams run the entire gamut — from legal frauds and fly-by-night operators to false promises and untenable buy-one-get-something-free offers.

Of late, there is another fraud where vacant sites and unoccupied houses are being targeted by land-grabbers, squatters and anti-social elements who will ultimately claim your land as their own and force you to cough up money to vacate your own land.

Criminal networks identify empty properties by using names on the published obituaries and carrying out research on the land registers. They subtly survey the areas to identify sites that have been literally abandoned by the actual owners. Identification is simple if there is wild growth in the land that is amidst a group of houses.

Once a suitable property is discovered, the criminal group then organise fake documentation, sometimes in connivance with the official machinery. The group tirelessly work through legal hurdles while the innocent property owner has no idea that a crime has taken place.

PERFECT IN CON JOB

Even without documentation, the vacant sites are occupied and sheds are erected and criminals are so perfect in their jobs that they even erect "No Trespassing" sign board on the land while they themselves are the actual trespassers. When the actual owner comes to his land, he is threatened and asked for a share in the property or asked to part with money to get his land vacated.

The modus operandi of the criminals is so well planned that the actual site owners finally end up paying lakhs of rupees for squatters to clear the land. Even when houses are being built on the land, these criminals approach the land owner and tell the owner that he is building his house in a land that is owned by them (criminals). They even produce property documents to support their claims and with their knack of convincing and veiled threatening, the documents possessed by the actual land owners are declared fake.

PERCENTAGE

Once the haggling starts, another group (extended members of the criminal gang) intervenes and convinces the owner to pay money to get the land vacated. These criminals convince the land owners not to go to the Police Stations or Courts as the case may take years to get resolved. Instead, they are brought to the negotiation table where the deal is struck.

Shockingly, the land owners are asked to pay "percentage" to get his land vacated. Such percentage depends on the value of the house site and the area where the land is located. If the value of a site for instance in a particular area is Rs.1 crore, the actual land owner is asked to cough up 15 to 20 percent (Rs.15 to 20 lakh) as the "charges" to get the land vacated.

LANDS THAT ARE EASY TARGET

Typically, the land-grabbers target such lands where the owners are absent for a long time or living abroad. Elderly people do not live in their properties for reasons such as long-term hospital or residential care. Such properties become easy target for scamsters.

Surprisingly, the educated who know the law well fall prey to the criminal gangs. Some people who have close contact with the Police and the influential wriggle out of this scam using their clout. But most people become victims as they dither to approach the Police or Court of law as they believe that it will take years for the case to be adjudicated.

Not only people who have used their hard-earned money to purchase sites are becoming victims of such scams but also land beneficiaries of various Government schemes are being cheated by criminals.

Three arrested for stealing furniture from doctor's property

Mysuru, Nov.14 (SBD&BCT)- Nazarbad Police have arrested three persons for trespassing the property of a well-known doctor at Lalitha Mahal Palace Cross, K.C. Layout. The arrested persons have been accused of entering the property, breaking open the shed and stealing the furniture.

The arrested have been identified as Manjesh, Deenu and Deepu and the Police have launched a search for other accused Panchakshari and Manju, who are absconding. In his complaint, the doctor has stated that the accused barged into his private property by breaking open the locks of the shed.

Once they gained entry into the property, the accused stole furniture that included windows, doors, tables and chairs. They also destroyed certain items, the complaint stated. Based on the complaint, the Police have arrested the accused and have recovered the stolen furniture.

Demonetisation hits real estate hard

Mysuru, Nov.14 (UNI)- Real Estate in Mysuru Region is yet to recover from demonetisation.

According to District Registrar, number of properties, including houses, sites and land registered in the district is below two lakh.

The Real Estate market has remained sluggish in the last 24 months and reaching target of Rs.400 crore may not be possible to achieve this year.

Real Estate players pointed out that black money was driving the property transactions. A large number of sellers do not disclose the entire proceeds they had collected from the buyer to avoid paying capital tax. Post-demonetisation, the sources of black money dried up, bringing down the number of purchasers.

Despite the number of purchasers coming down, rates of properties have remained intact. "Rates have not come down as few owners are willing to sell it for less," said Deed Writer Kumar, who has been in the business since last two decades.

However, ready-to-occupy houses and apartments escaped the brunt of demonetisation effect as they were mainly purchased by end-users through legal channels and hence were tax compliant. But it was the sale and registration of land that was affected and two years on, it is yet to regain the pre-Demonetisation stream.

"In terms of number of properties registered and sale deeds, Mysuru is witnessing a slow revival but is yet to catch up with the pre-demonetisation levels," said a senior official in the Mysuru South Sub-Registrar's Office. Revenue generation through registration of properties has remained stagnant and there was no year-on-year growth.

A leading builder said, the immediate impact of demonetisation was a sharp fall in the number of Real Estate registrations but after two years it was now witnessing a steady recovery though it was yet to attain the earlier levels. But the exercise definitely did not cut property rates.

The exercise has helped partially reduce black money component in cash transactions but has not completely eliminated it, according to N. Subramanya of Builders Association of India (BAI).

Real Estate prices were expected to crash after demonetisation but the potential sellers held on to their properties unless it was a distress sale and the property rates remain more or less at the pre-demonetisation levels, he added.

Mysuru-bound buses to ply from Majestic Bus Stand again

Mysuru, Nov.14 (NNN)- All the buses moving from city towards Bengaluru and buses from Bengaluru to Mysuru will henceforth likely to operate from Bengaluru's Majestic Central Bus Station (Kempegowda Bus Station).

The Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) in order to de-congest the Majestic Bus Stand had taken a decision in 2011 to shift a number of buses operating from there to two other Satellite Bus Stations in Bengaluru. As a result, the buses plying from Bengaluru to Mysuru, Madikeri, Mangaluru and other parts were operating from this Bus Station. While the buses plying from Bengaluru to Tumakuru, Chitradurga, Hubballi and Maharashtra were operating from Basaveswara Bus Station near Peenya.

However, the KSRTC has decided to relocate the Bus Stand to Majestic Central Bus stand again. The passengers were finding it difficult to go to Majestic Bus Stand or to the Bengaluru City Railway Station (Krantivira Sangolli Rayanna Bengaluru Station) from the Mysuru Road Satellite Bus Station as they had to catch different modes of transport.

This problem is likely to be resolved soon as the KSRTC has decided to operate buses towards Mysuru, Madikeri, Kodagu, Kerala and Tamil Nadu from Majestic Bus Stand itself.

The luxury buses like Volvo, Sleeper and other buses towards Mysuru and inter-State buses will start operating from Majestic Bus Stand itself. This decision was taken at a meeting held recently.

Robbers steal Rs.3.42 lakh cash from garments shop

Mysuru, Nov.14 (SBD&KS)- Miscreants, who entered a garments store on D. Devaraj Urs Road on Sunday night, have decamped with about Rs.3.42 lakh cash kept in the locker of the shop.

The miscreants, who gained entry into the Show Off garments shop by removing the sheet of the roof on the third floor and by removing the glass of a toilet ventilator, broke open the locker kept at the shop and have decamped with Rs.3,42,130 cash.

The miscreants are said to have taken the locker to the terrace and have broke open the locker using a weapon. In order to leave no clues behind, the miscreants have also stolen the CCTV DVR.

Based on the complaint given by Assistant Manager Santosh, Devaraja Police have registered a case and are investigating.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka tells how chickens are raised, what are the benefits of keeping them, their life span and more.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

I live just outside the city in a big farm. I would like to keep chickens. What are the benefits of keeping chickens?

Chickens make fun pets. They are intelligent, speak a language, have family groups, communicate. They are also very good for the rest of the farm as they eat scraps, pests, and their natural manure is good for the soil. Free range chicken eggs, I am told (since I don't eat them), are much tastier than commercial ones.

Will keeping chickens cause any problems with my garden?

No, they don't eat flowers or vegetables. They eat bugs and beetles and ants. They enrich the soil.

What do chickens eat and drink?

Keeping chickens is easy when they have enough to eat and drink. Full grown chickens need a constant supply of chicken feed, shell grits and water. Scraps, like leafy greens and porridge, can be additional treats. Chickens need a constant supply of fresh water, as they drink between 500 ml to 1 L of water per day — depending on weather conditions.

How long do chickens live?

Chickens, in small flocks, live several years if conditions are correct. A life span of 6-8 years is reasonable.

How are chickens raised; pastures, indoor or confined?

Chicken reared on pastures are healthier than chickens reared indoor. Confined chickens, or chickens in cages, are never healthy. However, they need housing for nesting and for when it rains or the weather is too hot.

How should I build a poultry house for my chickens?

Chicken house should have an Eastward orientation, with ventilation windows on the sides facing south and north. Make sure the ventilation exists and there is no major temperature increases.

You can use iron sheets, grass, palm leaves, to cover the roof. On the covered part of the wall you can use bricks, sand blocks, iron sheets, wood and mud.

The floor can be prepared in several ways including plastering with sand and cement or mud.

Make sure there are no cracks on the wall nor on the floor. You can have bedding materials which include wood shavings, saw dust, peanut hulls, rice husk and dry grass. Once this is removed it could be put into fertilizing gardens to boost crop yield. When removed from the poultry house, the bedding material should be heaped and covered with a polythene sheet to allow healthy bacteria to ferment all the residual feed material resulting in an increase in temperature which kills all the micro-organisms which could harm the chickens. But that is if you have not used antibiotics in the feed for the chickens or pesticides. If you have, then the material is dangerous to fields and crops.

How can I make sure that the condition inside the chicken house is pleasant for chickens?

(i) Building the house as described above on East-West orientation.

(ii) Not allowing litter material to cake, by turning it frequently with a rake or other objects.

(iii) Providing clean potable water always.

(iv) Opening and closing the curtains on the window when it is hot and cold.

(v) Avoiding overcrowding.

(vi) Providing chicken with balanced feed rations.

The most important is to give them lots of space to move naturally, fresh air and sunlight. Sustainably raised poultry eat grasses, greens, grains and insects, whereas factory farmed poultry are fed bone, feathers, blood, other animal by-products and manure, arsenic, enzymes, and antibiotics.

What material should be used for curtains in a poultry farm?

The curtaining material should allow exchange of air between the inside and outside environment. Plastic materials are not recommended. Old feed sacks make very good curtains.

How can I build a chicken house in a frequently flooded area?

There are two types of poultry houses depending on the risk of flooding. In areas prone to flooding, slated floor houses are recommended. In slated floor chicken houses, the floor is raised above the ground by at least two feet. Construct storm drains to take water directly away from the chicken house.

Is there any danger in letting them roam freely?

They are vulnerable to predators, like dogs. Unless you have a good wall, and not just a fence, you may lose them as they may wander through it. It will become increasingly difficult to find their eggs if they have fields to find secret laying spots. In conditions such as this, chickens are more likely to become egg-paranoid and broody. They will attack you if they believe you are going near their stashes.

Some owners make the distinction that their flock is either full-time or part-time free range chickens. The difference being that full-time free range chickens are left entirely to their own devices, essentially free to run wild over the property. Part-time free range chickens spend most of the day out of the coop, exploring the world however they come home at the end of the day to a safe warm coop. Vaccinate them, as they might contract diseases when they are scuttling and pecking their way across a large property.

How can I control mites in hens?

Mites are tiny little parasites that attack chickens and suck their blood. You have a mite issue if your hens begin to lose their feathers, or if you begin to see them biting under their wings or around their vents. This is how you get rid of them: i. Keep the coop clean and dry, making sure of the dark spots and corners too; ii. Pestene/diatomaceous earth/other safe insecticides should be used regularly to get rid of mites and lice; iii. Provide them with an area of dust bathing. It helps them to get rid of excess oil, moisture and mites; iv. In case your chickens live in coop full time, provide them with an artificial dust bath area out in the Sun. Use wood ash mixed with sand, dried lavender and mint in an artificial one. Clean it every day.

Hachiko: The most loyal Japanese dog

Hachiko — A Japanese breed of dog, popularly known for its loyalty. Accidentally, Professor Hedesaburo Ueno of Tokyo University came across abandoned Hachiko puppy at the Shibuya Railway Station in 1924 and with sympathy took it home and showered love, with all care and affection. Hachiko used to come with him in the morning up to the railway station and used to wait during evenings at the railway station to greet his master. The Professor Ueno suddenly died of brain hemorrhage in May 1925 while lecturing in the class. Hachiko waited every evening at the railway station for the arrival of his deceased master till his last breath. Hachiko waited for nine-and-a-half years and died of cancer in March 1935.

Hachiko was buried next to his master's grave in Tokyo and a bronze statue was installed at the railway station in memory of Hachiko's faithfulness.

Tokyo University has also installed a statue in memory of Prof. Uneo and Hachito; movies were screened in 1987 (Japanese) and 2009 (American). Hachikō's fur, which was preserved after his death, was stuffed and mounted and is currently on permanent display at the National Science Museum of Japan.

Taking ownership of a movement

The other side of Sir MV's clarion call "Industrialise or Perish' is Pratham's call "Educate Children or Perish". Every child. Specially in government schools

Ashvini Ranjan

Raghu Dixit to perform for Pratham's cause.

Pratham

When Ashvini Ranjan, Bhamy Shenoy and Anil Kothari walked into my office recently, I thought they had come to ask for donation for Pratham, the NGO dedicated to educating children in a special way, which Ashvini Ranjan is heading as Managing Trustee. But I was wrong. Ashvini's request was of a different kind. He was asking me to become a part-owner of this movement to educate children.

He went on to say that it was education which is our only hope for the future of our children and improve the quality of the life of our people in our country. True, but I was curious to know what was prompting him and his colleagues to make this unusual request to me, of all the people. How does one take ownership of a movement I wondered? The next half-an-hour of listening to what Ashvini and his friends told me about what Pratham Mysore was doing to improve education in Karnataka, I thought it is important to share this information with my readers. Hence, these few words.

Pratham Mysore is an NGO committed to its mission of ensuring that 'Every Child in School and Learning Well.' Thanks to the policy of the government for making primary education free and compulsory, nearly 94% children are enrolled into government schools. But whether they are learning well is a million dollar question! Though Pratham Mysore has been in existence since 2002 and quietly working in hundreds of government schools, many in Mysuru don't know of its existence nor the kind of work it is doing.

Going by the data that was made available to me by Pratham, I understand that it is training over 33,000 teachers in 23,000 schools spread over 20 districts in Karnataka. It is certainly a large number by any measure and wonder how this challenge is met by Pratham. How about the quality of teaching?, I asked Ashvini Ranjan, Pratham's Founding Trustee. He informed me that the 60-day capsule programme, which Pratham specialises in, saw considerable improvement in basic learning of maths and languages. The government extending an invitation to enter into a partnership with Pratham is an acknowledgment of the quality of work it is doing.

Pratham's choice to work in government schools and in rural areas was based on the belief that it is those children who needed help in learning.

Till such time the partnership was formalised during 2017, Pratham volunteers worked with the government school system after school hours or during vacation time. This indeed shows the concern of Pratham for our rural children who are always denied quality education compared to urban children.

A surprise awaited me when I was told that Pratham did not take money from the government to help educate the children in its own model. Money complicates matters, Ashvini said but did not offer further explanation. "We receive donations from individuals and corporates across the world," Ashvini said with humility. How about Mysuru's contribution, I asked? Less than 1% he said and smiled.

No wonder there is this offer for part-ownership. If Mysuru is benefiting from the efforts of organisations like Pratham, it needs to be supported. Needless to say one has to exercise caution in making a choice of who deserves support. Little wonder Raghu Dixit, the well-known musician, has offered to perform a concert free of cost for a good cause on 8th of December.

The owners of the multi-purpose sports and recreation facility Mysore Socials (Harsha Melanta, partner), North Avenue, Plot No. 225P, behind Coco-Cola Godown, Rane Madras Road, Hebbal Industrial Area, Mysuru-570018 [Mob:96208-15025] where the programme will be held, have magnanimously offered their premises at no cost. Other Mysureans too should come forward to take part-ownership of this movement like Ashvini Ranjan has, for we as a community are the ultimate beneficiaries.

And you can take part-ownership of this movement by buying tickets for the Raghu Dixit performance on Dec. 8. Tickets are available in various parts of the city and also on Book My Show portal.

Today being Children's Day, come let us join this movement and strengthen the hands of Pratham Mysore.

Rare Neelgai that was spotted at Bhadra Tiger Reserve dies

Chikkamagaluru, Nov. 14 (MTY&BCT)- The mysterious Neelgai (Blue Bull) that was discovered in the Muthodi Range of Bhadra Tiger Reserve in March this year is dead. According to forest officials, it was killed by a tiger and its body partially eaten.

How the Neelgai came to Karnataka that too in the wild, remains a mystery till date, as they are found only in the northern parts of the country. The Neelgai was found dead by the anti-poaching camp staff near Hippla of Muthodi Range on Monday evening. The carcass had tiger marks which revealed that it had been killed by a tiger, maybe on Friday.

Muthodi Assistant Conservator of Forests Chengappa said the beat staff discovered the body of Neelgai, which was in fact, a healthy animal and lived in the forest for almost nine months since its discovery in March. It was under observation but it was never found where it came from. Neelgai is found only in the North and maybe, very long back it was said to be in Kadur."

G. Veeresh, wildlife activist added, "In the North, especially in Rajasthan, Neelgai is commonly found. But we don't know how it came into Muthodi forest. It could have been shifted to the zoological park as it is not found in the South at all."

The 'blue bull' was sighted at Bhadra in March after a long gap of 65 years. According to Forest Department officials, it was a big surprise to see the animal in a habitat that is semi-evergreen to moist deciduous.

The last time that a Neelgai was found in the State was way back in 1952 in Kundkere Range (bordering Sathyamangala forests) of Bandipur Tiger Reserve. The animal, however, was never found in Karnataka again.

A Neelgai stands 3 feet 7 inches to almost 5 feet tall at the shoulder (1.1 to 1.5 meters) and has a length of 5 foot 7 inches to almost 7 feet (1.7 to 2.1 meters). It weighs between 220 and 680 pounds (100 to 308 kilograms) and makes them quite the imposing creatures. Their somewhat peculiar shape makes them very interesting to the eye.

CM's Financial Advisor visits KRS

Of this, 69.82 acres is owned by Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited and 104 acres is under the control of Horticulture Department with the rest of the land owned by Karnataka Engineering Research Centre and Tourism Department.

Sources said that Balasubramaniam held a meeting with the officials regarding the memorandum of understanding to be signed among various departments regarding land transfer for the Disneyland so that future land tussle will be avoided. The officer, accompanied by CNNL Executive Engineer Basavarajegowda, CNNL Managing Director Prasanna, Superintending Engineer Ravindra Vasudev and Chief Engineer Prakash, visited the KRS campus and held discussion on the amusement park and beautification project.

On an average, over 10,000 tourists visit the KRS daily and the numbers see an increase during Dasara and peak tourism season. Once the Disneyland project is completed, the government is hoping to attract over 30,000 to 50,000 tourists per day.

Officials said that the Disneyland will come up at KRS depending on the area landscape. "We will build the amusement park based on the Dam elevation and accordingly, aesthetic features will be built," officials said.

They added that a team of officers have already visited Disneyland in the United States of America and have procured videos, project reports and landscape designs. "We will customise the project to local needs while implementation," officials said.

Today's meeting in Bengaluru regarding the KRS beautification and Disneyland will be chaired by Water Secretary and the officer will hold meeting with CNNL authorities, sources added.

City-based award-winning child artiste's film Jeerjimbe in cinemas on Nov.16

Ramakrishna Vidyashala alumni pool in for the movie

Mysuru, Nov.14 (NNN) - The award-winning children's film Jeerjimbe will be released in city on Nov.16 in multiplex screens —DRC, PVR and INOX — and across the country.

Karthik Saragur

Mysuru artiste Siri Vanalli in the movie 'Jeerjimbe.'

The Rotary Mysore and Rotary Midtown are sponsoring school children to watch the movie that depicts the struggles of a girl child who wishes to live her dreams and fly like a butterfly once it is transformed.

Nearly 2,000 students from schools and colleges in the city are being encouraged to watch this movie with the lead role donned by award-winning child artiste Siri Vanalli of Mysuru. There will also be a special screening for school and college Principals.

Majority of child actors have been chosen from Natana School of Theatre Arts, Mysuru and one of the lead actors is Siri Vanalli, trained in acting skills by Mandya Ramesh, Natana Director.

A few former students of Ramakrishna Vidyashala, Yadavagiri, got together to bring out this film. They include Executive Producer Karthik Shekar, Director Karthik Saragur and Music Director Charan Raj.

The old students of the Vidyashala have started Vivekananda Service Society where they have adopted 12,000 students from rural areas. Seeing the condition of the girls they were inspired to make a film on girl child from a rural area. It is a crowd-funding film where Pushkar Mallikarjun of Pushkar Films and Beehive Productions have produced the film.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Director Karthik Saragur said that the feature film had already bagged four State Awards — Best Children's Film, Best Child Actor (female) Siri Vanalli, Best Music Director (Charan Raj) and Best Lyricist (Karthik Saragur). It has been screened in 23 international festivals so far including New York and Mexico.

"It is children's film for sure but I will say that it's a film for the elders about children also as it is they who are responsible for fulfilling the dreams of their children," said Saragur.

Asked what Jeerjimbe meant, he said that it means a Jewel Beetle. People in many parts of Asia and even India cut its head and empty the shell and then use it as ornamental jewellery. However, given a chance the Jeerjimbe would have metamorphosed into a beautiful butterfly flying with its wings. This is exactly the situation of the girl children in the country.

"The problem of child marriages is rampant in the country. In Varuna Constituency of Mysuru alone, there are five to ten child marriages. Not only in rural areas but also in Koramangala, one of the happening places in Bengaluru, nearly 300 child marriages take place. Hence, we made this film to bring about an awareness as to how a girl child has her aspirations and how she should be allowed to chase her dreams," added Saragur.

He said that this film is a pro-development and not any pro-government one as it shows how any good government programme like giving free bicycles to girl students could change their lives. In this film, the cycle is the metaphor for the girl to dream.

Speaking to Star of Mysore on the occasion of Children's Day today, Siri Vanalli said that Jeerjimbe was shot nearly three years ago when she was a 10th standard student at Vijaya Vittala Vidyashala, Mysuru and she had played the lead role of Rudri.

Presently doing her Law at Bengaluru, Siri said that she was very happy to bag the Best Child Artiste Award for the film with a social message.

Siri Vanalli, who received the award given by the Karnataka State Film Awards Committee for 2016, is also proficient in Hindustani classical music.

Siri is the daughter of Prof. Niranjan Vanalli, former Registrar of Music University, Mysuru and Savitha Vanalli.

Inflammatory speech: Columnist arrested; released on bail

Bandh observed in parts of South Kodagu against arrest

Madikeri/ Gonikoppal, Nov.14 (PS&BCT)- The Gonikoppal (Kodagu) Police arrested columnist Santosh Thammaiah on Monday night on the charge of hurting religious sentiments.

Santosh

A complaint had been lodged against Thammaiah and three others for speeches made during a programme held ahead of Tipu Jayanti at Gonikoppal earlier this month.

Around midnight on Monday, Gonikoppal Police arrived at Madhugiri near Tumakuru and arrested Santosh Thammaiah, who is the editor of Aseema for allegedly making an inflammatory speech against Prophet Mohammed and Tipu Sultan.

On Nov.6, a resident of Siddapura, K.V. Askar, filed a complaint with the Gonikoppal Police alleging that Santosh Thammaiah had made an inflammatory speech against the Prophet at an event organised by a Hindutva group Pragnya Kaveri titled 'Tipu Karaala Mukha Anaavarana' (Exposure of Tipu's dark side).

Confirming the arrest, Superintendent of Police Suman Pennekar said the authorities had found some evidence of the alleged remarks made by Thammaiah.

The BJP has condemned the arrest. "Santosh has been arrested for speaking against the celebration of Tipu Jayanti by the State Government. He had merely exercised his freedom of speech and expression," said BJP State General Secretary Aravind Limbavali.

"By curtailing this right of a citizen, the Congress-JD(S) coalition Government has proved it has no hesitation to adopt undemocratic means and deliver a sledgehammer blow on freedom of the media," he added.

Yesterday afternoon, members of various Hindutva groups took to the streets of Gonikoppal to protest Santhosh's arrest. Protesters resorted to sloganeering and called for Santhosh's release. They alleged that Santhosh's right to free speech had been breached. Soon, several members of Hindutva groups took to social media and expressed solidarity with the arrested journalist.

Meanwhile, Santhosh Thammaiah was released last evening following bail issued by the Ponnampet Court. The Judge ordered his release with a warning against making hate speeches. Various Hindu outfits have called for a bandh from 12 noon to 1 pm in Kodagu today in protest against the arrest.

In Virajpet too, members of Muslim community held a protest against the alleged remarks made by Santhosh against the Prophet. Protest that was held near the Clock Tower condemned the remarks and the protesters said that the comments hurt the sentiments of the community.

Santhosh has been booked under Section 295A (Deliberate and malicious acts, intended to outrage religious feelings or any class by insulting its religion or religious beliefs) of the IPC, Police added.

"The event organisers did not have Police permission to organise the event. Yet they went ahead and held the programme. The complaint was filed on Nov.6 and we told the complainant that we can arrest Santosh after Tipu Jayanti celebrations, as there was a possibility that some clashes may have erupted," the Gonikoppal Police said.

It'll Snow soon in city !

The entrance to Snow World coming up in Nazarbad.

The garden and the selfie spot.

Snow skiing equipment.

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Nov. 14- Why go to Himachal Pradesh or Jammu & Kashmir to experience snow fall when you can literally chill and freeze at your backyard?

Yes. Mysuru city will soon get a Snow World where one can play, dance, glide, and slide amidst snow and also climb snow-clad heights for 'that' adrenaline rush in your brain. The Snow World is coming up in Nazarbad at Shyamsundar Theatre that has stopped playing movies since ages. The area is behind the Regency Theatre that also has stopped functioning.

Works on the Snow World are in a war-footing and the facility will be completed in another 15 to 20 days. The old theatre has been completely refurbished and once complete the whole structure will resemble like Kremlin, a fortified complex at the heart of Moscow, the capital of Russia overlooking the Moskva River.

Bengaluru-based Fun World and Resorts that has established the popular Snow City at Jayamahal (Palace Grounds) in Bengaluru has bagged the work of Snow World in Mysuru. The land of Shyamsundar Theatre is owned by the erstwhile royal family of Mysore and the Fun World Group has come to an understanding with the royal family to set up the Snow World.

Snow theme park

The indoor snow theme park being set up inside the cinema hall of the Shyamsundar Theatre is 1,000 feet long and 100 feet wide with temperature maintained at subzero degree centigrade. Every part inside the hall will be filled with snow made out of water and air, which is eco-friendly and edible too. The most amusing news is to have pleasure all in a negative temperature of minus 10 degrees along with living the lifestyle of an Eskimo.

Snow World will offer an experience in snow balling, mountain climbing, snow jumping, sliding, sledging, dancing, snow skiing and snow sliding along with DJ music. All attractions are suitable for family entertainment and the place is a must-visit attraction and will regale adults and children alike.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Project Supervisor Mallikarjun said that the park will stay open each and every day of the week and is a fine place to spend some quality time with your near and dear ones. "No matter when you visit you will always see subzero temperatures being maintained over here," he says.

Trained personnel will always keep a watch on gamers and those using skiing machines and rescuers will be stationed at the venue. All the players will be provided boots, helmets, thermals, caps, gloves and jackets as the temperature will be below freezing. The elderly and children can catch cold quite quickly, he added.

Selfie with Kremlin

A team of 120 skilled workers have been working on the Snow World project since the last three months and the tourist attraction will be completed in another 15 to 20 days. The skilled workers have been specially brought from Kolkata, Mumbai and Chennai. The entrance of the Snow World will have an attractive park and there will be an exclusive selfie zone so that the tourists can take selfies with the Kremlin-style building. Entry fees and timings have not yet been finalised and they will be announced once the Snow World is open the public, Mallikarjun added.

Hope for Men with Azoospermia!

The general perception is that if the man produces semen it always contains sperms. This is not true. Unfortunately a number of men coming to Gunasheela Fertility Centre even refuse a semen test with this assumption. There are instances where the man is able to produce semen but it does not contain any sperms. Azoospermia is a condition where there are no sperms in the ejaculated semen. There are two types - Obstructive Azoospermia and Non-Obstructive Azoospermia.

In Obstructive Azoospermia there will be normal sperm production in the testis but there is obstruction to the flow of sperms at various levels.

The blockage could be anywhere between the testis and the urethra (urine passage). Infection, injury or surgery (for hernia or hydrocele) of the genital tract may result in this condition. As a result there will be no sperms in the ejaculated semen. The blockage can be bypassed by surgery or sperms obtained using a fine needle directly from the testis. Sperms are retrieved in almost 100% of patients. These sperms can then be used for injecting the wife's eggs in a procedure called IVF – ICSI.

In Non-Obstructive Azoospermia there is a problem with production of sperms in the testis. The exact cause is not known in most of the cases but Radiation, Chemotherapy, Mumps infection in childhood, Hormonal deficiencies may result in this condition. A new procedure known as Micro dissection Testicular Sperm Extraction (Micro – TESE) is used to retrieve sperms so that these men can have their own biologic child. Using Micro-TESE sperms can be obtained in upto 60% of these patients.

The sperms obtained by either technique are used in a procedure called IVF-ICSI (test-tube baby). The pregnancy rate from this technique is similar to that achieved in IVF-ICSI using normally ejaculated sperms. Many patients have been treated this way successfully and we have had the first baby in the state with the Micro-TESE surgical procedure. Childline Se Dosti Week Programme-2018

'Maithri Sapthaha' to sensitise public on child rights

Cases of child marriages reduced in Mysuru District but tough to track in tribal hamlets, say NGOs

Mysuru, Nov.14 (MTY&SR)- Rural Literacy and Health Programme (RLHP) District Convener Saraswathi informed that Childline launched its annual week-long awareness campaign 'Maithri Sapthaha' to sensitise public on various issues of child rights violations as part of Children's Day celebration today. The week-long event will be held across the district till Nov.21.

Speaking to reporters at Pathrakartara Bhavan here yesterday, she said violations of children rights such as employing children in hazardous industries, child labour, children out of school, child trafficking, pushing children to begging, sexual and physical assault on minors are increasing though the RLHP, Childline, other Non-Government Organisations (NGOs) are involved in protection and empowerment of children in the district. She regretted that violations of children rights are unabated despite various awareness programmes being undertaken by these NGOs.

She said that the Childline-1098 had received about 1,758 distressed calls on exploitation of children last year in the district. The Childline responded quickly to 988 distressed calls and rehabilitated 49 children and 141 children were counselled.

Childline had also ensured necessary medical aid to 34 children and funded education cost of one child. It has also filed complaints against the missing of 19 children in various Police Stations. Childline has also rescued 117 children at City Railway Station, Bus Stands, various tourist spots and rehabilitated them.

Deputy Director of Women and Child Development Department K. Radha (standing 2nd from left), who inaugurated the 'Maithri Sapthaha' at Kuppanna Park in city this morning, watching the children paint at a contest organised as part of Children's Day celebrations.

Though the Childline had received 142 calls seeking prevention of child marriage, the organisation averted 115 child marriages with the help of police, child welfare and protection officials. Of the102 child labour calls, the organisation rescued 80 children. 20 children who were engaged in begging have been rehabilitated against the 90 complaints.

Saraswathi further said that the Childline had also helped 45 children who suffered physical assault, four minors of sexual assault, 31 school drop outs, six children of trafficking, 15 children who suffered mental and physical torture in various schools. A drug abused child was also rehabilitated.

She said that the State and Union Governments with the help of various children-friendly NGOs have been conducting the nationwide 'Maithri Sapthaha' from Nov.14 to 21 in selected 425 districts in the country with main intention to educate the public and children about protection of children rights, besides to ensure education and create children-friendly atmosphere.

Childline had organised drawing and painting contest for children at Kuppanna Park in city this morning. It will conduct similar programme for children and street play on Nov.15 at City Railway Station, near Devaraj Market and other major junctions in city.

A public awareness and sensitising the government employees will held on Nov.16 at Sargur. The Women and Child Welfare Department will hold children awareness programme on Nov.17 at Mysuru.

A one-day workshop on prevention of child marriage, child labour and sexual assault on minors and drawing contest will held on Nov.19 at Child Labour Hostel run by Nisarga Foundation at H.D. Kote town.

A public awareness programme at Morarji Desai Residential School at Bilikere will held on Nov.20 and public campaign will held at Bus Stand, Hotels, Business Establishments at T.N. Narasipur on Nov.21.

Child Marriage reduced

Saraswathi said that cases of child marriage had reduced to considerable extent when compared to previous year's records of the district. However, she said that the NGOs were finding tough to trace out the child marriage cases in tribal hamlets as couples migrate to other places soon after their marriage.

The cases of child marriages are high in rural Mysuru. In many child marriage cases, parents get their daughter or son married at an early age due to certain beliefs and poor economic conditions. As most of the marriages are conducted secretly, the authorities are unable to take legal action due to lack of evidence.

Deputy Director of Women and Child Development Department K. Radha said that the number of cases has come down when compared to previous years. However, the social evil still exists in the rural region, particularly in tribal hamlets.

She said that the Department has issued instructions to the tribal leaders in this regard and also educated them about the ill-effects of child marriages, including legal consequences. Owing to awareness and educative programmes, child marriages are on the decline, she said.

As many as 43 cases of child marriages have been reported from April to October in the district and 41 of them were stopped. Police have registered FIRs in two cases. K.R. Nagar taluk tops the list with 11 cases, followed by 10 cases in Nanjangud.

School children are seen enjoying the games at the Exhibition Grounds in city this morning as they were given free entry today as part of Children's Day celebrations.

DC inspects Lansdowne, Devaraja Market buildings

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar inspecting the Lansdowne Building yesterday.

Mysuru, Nov.14 (RK&NNN)- There are two most important heritage landmarks in the heart of the city — Lansdowne Building and Devaraja Market — and that are lying in a dilapidated condition and neither the District Administration nor the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has taken any concrete steps so far to restore or rebuild the structures. However, yesterday there was some hope for the tenants of these two complexes when Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar inspected both the places.

According to the DC, the decision of taking up the works depends on the decision of the Government. However, there are already two conflicting reports — one report of the Heritage Committee suggesting retaining both the heritage structures and repairing them, while the other of the Task Force stating that they have to be demolished and rebuilt.

He said that apart from these two reports, the District Administration was now thinking of calling for a third report from another Expert Committee but it will depend on the decision of the Government.

It is said that the Heritage Committee had submitted an interim report more than six months ago and they had to submit a final report which they have done yesterday (Nov.13). There is going to be a meeting at the DC's office shortly where a decision will be taken based on the final report.

Meanwhile, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha told Star of Mysore that he had also accompanied the DC during the visit and a decision could be taken only after the reports are sent to the Government.

It may be recalled that the front portion of the north gate of Devaraja Market was brought down by the MCC two years ago in August and though they had promised to build the shops again, nothing has been done about it.

As far as Lansdowne Building is concerned, the building was declared weak when the roof of a few of the shops had collapsed almost six years ago and a four people had died on the spot in the mishap.

Following this incident, the tenants were evicted and given alternate place right opposite to the building behind Thathaiah statue where they have been operating even now.

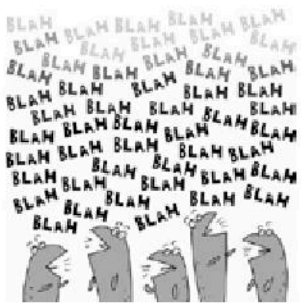
Verbose



Pronunciation: ver-BOHSS
Meaning: Containing more words than necessary; wordy; impaired by wordiness.
Origin: Verbose, which falls solidly into the first camp of words, comes from Latin verbosus, from verbum, meaning "word." Other descendants of verbum include verb, adverb, proverb, verbal, and verbicide (that's the deliberate distortion of the sense of a word).
Example: Her redundant language is making her sound verbose.

THE ODD WORD

Criticaster

A minor or incompetent critic.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

In a quandary

Meaning: Faced with a dilemma — perplexed and uncertain what to do.
Origin: The word is now little used, apart from in the phrase in a quandary. This came in to use in the 16th century; for example, in John Lyly's Euphues, the anatomy of wyt, 1579: Euphue ... departed, leaving this old gentleman in a great quandary.
Example: Mark is in a quandary about whether or not he should keep the money he found in the park.

Search Panel meets in Bengaluru to shortlist VC for Mysore Varsity

Mysuru, Nov.14 (NNN)-The Search Committee headed by Chairman Prof. K. Narayana Gowda, former Vice-Chancellor, University of Agricultural Sciences, met at the conference hall of the Higher Education Department at MS Building in Bengaluru yesterday, to shortlist three candidates for the Vice-Chancellor's post of University of Mysore (UoM).

Sources in the UoM told Star of Mysore that the Committee had met yesterday and the Finance Department personnel were also there to settle their TAs and DAs.

However, nothing is clear yet as to who are the three people who have been shortlisted for the VC's post. There are nearly 82 aspirants for the post out of whom nearly 15-20 are Professors from the University of Mysore itself, it is learnt.

Apart from Registrar Prof. R. Rajanna, Prof. Tulasi Mala, who has now gone as the Registrar of Vijayanagara Sri Krishnadevaraya University, are also vying for the post. The other names in the reckoning are: former Registrar Prof. C. Basavaraju, Prof. Rajashekar, Prof. Hemanth Kumar, Prof. Miditila Rani, all from University of Mysore, and Prof. Sharat Ananthamurthy from University of Hyderabad. The Committee is said to have shortlisted three names and they could be among any of these or someone else.

The sources in the University said that the Committee including Prof. B.C. Chapparwal (Governor's nominee), former Vice-Chancellor of Indore Health University, Prof. M. Jagadish Kumar (UGC nominee), Vice-Chancellor of Jawaharlal Nehru University and Prof. S. Chandrashekar (University of Mysore nominee) from Indian Institute of Chemical Technology, Hyderabad.

One of the former VCs, who is in the knowhow of the developments, said that all the four in the search panel are scholars of repute and hoped that a suitable VC for University of Mysore will be shortlisted.
